The Legion posts of the county are co-operating in this endowment campaign, which will soon be under way. June 16 is set for the last day of the drive.

MAITLAND MEN ARE ARRESTED

FEDERAL AGENT KISSINGER BRINGS THEM HERE.

HELD ON TWO CHARGES

Alleged Bootleggers, Arch Patterson and Floyd Johnson, Have Been Under Suspicions for Some Time.

What is considered from a local standpoint, about the biggest catch of violators of the prohibition law in Holt County within recent years was made Saturday night by federal agent, O. M. Kissinger, who is connected with the office of the federal prohibition director L. F. DeHart of Kansas City, when he arrested Arch Patterson and Floyd Johnson of Maitland.

He took the two men to St. Joseph today where they will be arraigned on charges of sale and possession of liquor before United States Commissioner, Richard Duncan. Patterson and Johnson have records in the federal court at St. Joseph. On their last offense they were released on payment of a fine.

Federal Agent Kissinger went to the farm of Patterson Saturday night, located half mile west of Maitland, where he purchased one quart of moonshine whisky. He then put the men under arrest, searched the premises and found three gallons of illicit liquor, some of which he destroyed. The men were brought to Maryville and placed in confinement in the county jail and today were on their way to St. Joseph with Federal Agent Kissinger for arraignment.

Patterson and Johnson have been suspected for several years of manufacturing and selling intoxicating liquor, and have been quite bold in their trafficking of whisky. They have been a source of supply for many from this county, but the local officers have been tied because the bootleggers operated in Holt County.

Two years ago the officers of the sheriff's office here made attempts to stop operations of Johnson and Patterson but could not accomplish their purpose because of the officers in Holt County refused to co-operate.

In an attempt to stop the illicit operations of these men Deputy Sheriff Gus Romasser went to the bootleggers' place at this time and purchased two quarts of whisky. He brought the men to Oregon and there in circuit court the defendants got off with a small fine, which is said never to have been paid.

It is presumed that Johnson and Patterson furnished a party of two men and women from Maryville with a supply of liquor recently, which landed the men in court and the women given a ticket out of town.

WELL PLEASED WITH CHOICE

LOCAL LEADERS COMMENT ON NEW SENATOR.

OUTSTANDING FIGURE

W. F. Phares, W. C. Pierce, Senator M. E. Ford and J. F. Hull Say Williams Is First-Class.

The appointment of Judge George H. Williams of St. Louis by Governor Sam A. Baker today to succeed the late Selden P. Spencer, meets with the hearty approval of William F. Phares, Republican state chairman, and W. C. Pierce, prominent in Missouri G. O. P. circles, according to statements obtained by the Democrat-Forum and Tribune.

Approval of the Williams appointment was also expressed by Senator M. E. Ford and J. F. Hull, members of the state Constitutional Convention.

"I am very greatly pleased over the appointment of Judge George H. Williams of St. Louis as Senator to succeed the late Selden P. Spencer," Mr. Phares said this morning. "He is a member of the Republican state committee from St. Louis County, and my association with him during the recent campaign was extremely pleasant.

"He is one of the outstanding lawyers of Missouri, has always taken an active part in party and civic affairs, a man of high ideals, and his years of study and experience make him eminently qualified to take up the duties of his new office."

In commenting on the Williams appointment, Mr. Pierce had the following to say:

"I am greatly pleased over the appointment of Judge George H. Williams as successor to the late Senator Spencer.

"Judge Williams is one of the big, upstanding lawyers of St. Louis, a man finely equipped mentally, in the very prime of life, in health and full vigor. Judge Williams doesn't have to rely on ancestry, but it is not amiss to say that his father was one of the real factors in Republicanism in Missouri for a half century prior to his death a few months ago, and those who knew the father will have additional reason for rejoicing over the good fortune of his son."

"By far, Baker's best appointment," was the comment of Senator M. E. Ford when informed that Judge Williams had been chosen as successor to the late Senator Spencer. Senator Ford became very well acquainted with Judge Williams while both were members of the Constitutional Convention.

"Judge Williams is an able, highly educated, hard worker," Senator Ford said, "and I am certainly well pleased with his appointment as United States Senator from Missouri. I believe he will rank with the best in the Senate, and undoubtedly will make good. He is a forceful, fluent speaker and should make good as United States Senator from Missouri."

J. F. Hull, postmaster and former editor of the Maryville Tribune, is also very well pleased with the Williams appointment. Mr. Hull became very well acquainted with the new Senator while both were members of the Constitutional Convention. Mr. Hull said:

"Governor Baker's selection of Judge George H. Williams as United States Senator to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Selden P. Spencer will meet the enthusiastic approval of a large number of Missouri Republicans. Judge Williams is a man of outstanding ability and wide experience and is particularly well qualified to take prominent part in the deliberations of the Senate. It was my pleasure to serve with him in the Constitutional Convention in which body he was an acknowledged leader.

WINTER BACK; OVERCOATS ON

MERCURY SETS NEW MARK FOR MAY TEMPERATURE.

TO 33 THIS MORNING

Previous Record Was 40 in 1917, According to J. R. Brink—Drops 34 Degrees Since Saturday's Highest

Summer made a short stay—seems he was unable to overcome the strong hold that Old Man Winter had secured this month and the latter got a decision this morning with a flying mare.

The gardeners and farmers, who refereed the bout, said that when Mr. Winter gained his decision over Our Short Summer, the latter was slightly injured as the gardens look pretty sick this morning, and the corn, which had been given such a boost in the last three days of last week, had a hard time withstanding the frost this morning. Overcoats took the place of summer suits and only a few dared to don straw hats on their way to church yesterday.

The county agent, J. Ross Fleetwood said this morning that he was of the opinion that the frost damaged the tender garden stuff, although he had heard of no reports so early.

The thermometer dropped to 33 degrees above zero this morning, the lowest May temperature on record, according to J. R. Brink, official local weather observer.

The previous low mark for May was 40 in 1917, Mr. Brink said this afternoon.

The minimum temperature yesterday was 46 and the maximum was 58 according to Mr. Brink's records. This is a drop of thirty-four degrees from Saturday's highest mark of 92, or a drop of more than one degree an hour.

TAKE BEST IS HIS ADVICE

BISHOP WALDORF URGES ONLY ACCEPTANCE 1ST RATE VALUES.

IN TALK TO SENIORS

Says There Are To Many Persons With To Many Standards — Diploma Must Stand for Service.

The acceptance of only the first-rate values in life was urged upon the graduates of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College by Bishop E. L. Waldorf of Kansas City in the baccalaureate address at the College auditorium last night.

During their College careers, students should become acquainted with the facts of life, acquire correct habits of living, raise standards and cultivate a discriminatory judgment, according to Bishop Waldorf.

"At one time, I was told that a great many things were facts that I have now found are fiction," he said. "It is far better not to know so many things than to know so many things that are not so. They told me things about the man in the moon that must have made him laugh. They told me some things about the great American desert that I have since found were not true."

Facts today may become fiction tomorrow, was the conclusion of the speaker.

Taking up the subject of habit, Bishop Waldorf pointed out that habits are acquired to do automatically the things that should be done and not to do the things which should not be done.

"Do the right thing in the right way at the right time," cautioned the speaker.

"Standards help you to live the latitude of your life," he continued. "When you have high standards, your life is high, and if your standards are low, your life is low.

"How many are tall enough to be seen across the state of Missouri?" questioned the speaker. "How many are tall enough to be seen across the United States? Across the world. How many are tall enough to be seen across eternity? Only a few, Christ, Apostle Paul, a few philosophers, just a few, but all of them were people that have a standard that is high."

Bishop Waldorf deplored the short yard stick measure and the varied measurements that are present in the world today. "Too many people with two many standards or low standards are going out into life," he declared.

In speaking of judgment he told that opinions and ideas of others was simply reflection on ourselves and that judgment is the picture of the soul to yourself.

The speaker stated that there are four tests of values: durability, dependability, desirability, and the dynamic quality.

In speaking of the first he said, "Job's gourd came up quickly. There is a difference between an oak tree and a basswood tree. There is a difference between a 99 year lease that has run 90 years and a 99 year lease that has run but 9 years. The time element is the durability of a thing."

"I am glad for the laws of dependability. That fire will always burn; that water will drown; because of this dependability quality. A noted literary writer tells that he investigated all kinds of gambling devices and was not able to find a single one which was honest. In a southern town, according to the writer he found some colored boys with blocks of sugar gambling as to which block of sugar would be first to attract a fly. Apparently finding an honest game the literary man took part but his sugar failed to attract flies and he lost three cents.

Upon leaving the game the colored boys told him the secret of his failure, that his block had been salt instead of sugar. The speaker then urged his hearers not to spend their time and talent on that which is merely gambling.

He then spoke of the desirability quality. "We all have our bodily, mental, social, and spiritual hungers. Desirability is a common lot but it is an essential to the value of any attainment.

The last test of values is the dynamic quality. This was associated with the explosives such as dynamite or "something that has power to accomplish things."

GETS $500 AT QUITMAN BANK

LONE BANDIT HOLDS UP INSTITUTION AT NOON.

ESCAPES IN A FORD

Binds Cashier, H. C. Bailey With Rope —Robber Carries Patch Over His Right Eye.

A check up of the money stolen at the Farmers Bank at Quitman revealed that $310 in currency was taken from the counter. The silver in the trays was missed by the lone bandit who made his escape in a Ford touring. Sheriff L. B. Campbell and Dtpuy Harve England returned from Quitman about 3:30 o'clock this afternoon and reported that no trace of the bandit has been made.

The robber told Mr. Bailey, cashier, that he had been trimming hedges in this vicinity and was poisoned by the hedge.

The sheriff reports that the bandit made two visits to the bank this morning and the second time entered H. C. Bailey's office, back of the counter. As Mr. Bailey got up to leave the robber threw pepper at him, which he dodged.

At this time Mrs. Bailey was calling the bank from her home. She couldn't get the bank and started down town. About this time the robber dashed out of the bank and passed Mrs. Fannie Davis, postmistress, on his way to his car parked near the church. Mrs. Bailey passed Mrs. Davis and said she could not get the bank to which Mrs. Davis replied that a man had just come out of there, and it proved that Mr. Bailey was tightly bound with ropes.

Several persons were on the street at the time but no one got the auto license number of the car.

A lone bandit, about 23 years old dressed in rough clothes, entered the Farmers Bank at Quitman at 11:50 o'clock this morning, held up the cashier of the bank, H. C. Bailey, bound and gagged him and got away with approximately $500, all of the money on the counter.

Sheriff Lowell B. Campbell was immediately informed of the robbery as soon as Mr. Bailey could free himself and is now working on the case.

The young fellow was dressed in overalls and a corduroy cap. The cap was slightly torn and the overalls soiled. Mr. Bailey said the bandit is light complexioned. He was wearing a patch over his eye, as he told Mr. Bailey when he went into the bank that he had been trimming hedges near Maryville and had scratched his face on the hedges, the right eye being apparently swollen. The robber entered the bank from the rear door and came up behind the counter where Mr. Bailey was standing. The bandit was carrying a bundle under his arm at the time. He told Mr. Bailey that he wanted work and asked him to call up R. I. Bilby and see if he could give him a job.

He next pulled a gun on the cashier of the bank, threw some pepper in his face, and bound him. The bandit then proceeded to sweep up all the silver and currency that was lying on the counter, jumped in an apparently new Ford touring car. Mr. Bailey said this afternoon that he had not yet checked up on the loss but estimated it less than $500.

The robber started north from the bank, turned east after a block and is supposed to have headed south.

The Farmers Bank at Quitman was organized about six years ago with a capital of $15,000. R. I. Bilby is president and H. C. Bailey is cashier. The other stock holders are Margaret, John S. and Ralph Bilby.

WILLIAMS IS NEW SENATOR

ST. LOUIS JURIST IS APPOINTED BY GOVERNOR BAKER.

"EQUAL OF SPENCER"

Is Former Circuit Judge of St. Louis and Is Native Missourian—Is Close Friend of Governor.

Jefferson City, May 25.—Judge George H. Williams of St. Louis today was appointed United States Senator from Missouri by Governor Sam A. Baker to succeed the late Selden P. Spencer.

Friends of Judge Williams expect him to accept the appointment which will extend to the November, 1926, election.

Judge Williams was elected judge of the St. Louis Circuit Court in 1906 and was elected a delegate-at-large to the Constitutional Convention of 1922.

The appointment is the second of its kind to be made by a Missouri Governor. The first was that of X. P. Wilfley of St. Louis by former Governor Gardner in 1918 to succeed Senator William J. Stone.

It is understood here that Judge Williams was virtually the only man considered for the appointment.

Former Judge Williams is 52 years old and was born at California, Mo., twenty-five miles west of the state capital. He is a member of the law firm of Bryan, Williams and Cave. He is a member of the Republican state committee.

In announcing his choice, Governor Baker said in part:

"The death of Hon. Selden P. Spencer on the 16th day of this month has created a vacancy in the United States Senate from Missouri, which must be filled by the governor. I am mindful of the far-reaching importance of this appointment. I have received many suggestions and much unsolicited advice.

"The man whom I appoint should come from the eastern section of the state inasmuch as the senior Senator resides in Kansas City. He should be honest and sincere and a thorough student of the Constitution of the United States. I believe that in general matters the new man I appoint will be the equal of Senator Spencer. He has the confidence of the people of this state. In fact, he should be thoroughly efficient along all lines. I have found such a man in the person of George H. Williams. I am confident of his honor, integrity and efficiency."

Former Judge Williams is one of the most prominent lawyers in St. Louis and has been active in the councils of the Republican party many years. In the recent constitutional convention he distinguished himself as a forceful debater. He is recognized as one of the best constitutional lawyers in the state.

Is Close Friend of Baker's.

The St. Louisan was born Dec. 1, 1872, and was educated in the California High School, and at Princeton and Washington universities. He received his A. B. degree at Princeton in 1894 and the LL. B. degree from Washington University in 1897.

He is a son of the late Judge John M. Williams of California, who served on the circuit bench for a number of years. His father was a veteran of the Civil War and took an active part in Republican politics, both in the county and the state, until his death last year.

George Howard Williams has been a close friend of Gov. Baker for many years. However, the appointment is not a personal one, but based on ability as a stateseman. The appointment is also a recognition of the Republican state committee, of which former Judge Williams is a member from the Tenth District.

The St. Louisian was Gov. Baker's first choice for chairman of the committee, but the administration of Gov. Hyde insisted on the selection of an outstate man, resulting in the withdrawal of Williams' name.

COURTESY AND COMPETITION.

Modern business methods and a deeper sense of responsibility to the general public has made a vastly more considerate thing of the years past. The time was when a politician could commandeer some fellow with a facile pen and a few hundred dollars and start a personal organ whose business it was to be personal on all possible occasions and to recognize no merit except such as the political factionist approved.

Since newspapers have become too expensive for playthings and have become sound business organizations and institutions of service to the general public, the little jealousies, spiteful personalities and narrow viewpoints have largely disappeared. The following editorial from the St. Louis Post Dispatch is a forceful example. The Post Dispatch and the Globe Democrat are the two great newspaper competitors of St. Louis. The Globe-Democrat was fifty years old the other day and its afternoon contemporary had the following editorial relating to the fact:

"Our neighbor, the Globe Democrat, was 50 years old Wednesday. It has lived an honorable life. It has succeeded as a business enterprise, but its material prosperity would not have been possible unless it had commanded public confidence. It has deservedly commanded public confidence by its moral worth and deservedly commanded public support by consistent public service.

"It has not always been the serene, judicious journal it now is. It was young once. The city was young, too. The times were young. Life then soared on a redder wing. But Chesterton's bit of philosophy is as applicable, we imagine, to institutions as it is to men: "We who found it good to be young find it good to be old." Of course, 50 is not old. It is the prime age. And at 50 we are glad to see our neighbor vigorous, prosperous, alert, gentler in its judgments, broader in its sympathies, and looking forward hopefully and confidently.

"The Post-Dispatch extends cordial congratulations and good wishes."

What a refreshing departure from the old, threadbare and discarded idea that there were no such things as congratulations or good wishes among newspapers in the same field and when all such events were ignored and even the names of editors and workers on other papers were barred from the columns of competitors. Verily the world "do move."

GOLF AND THE ELDERLY

The New York statistician who for years has been keeping a list of sudden deaths among golf players will now add another name, that of J. Dallas Dort, who dropped dead on a country club course in Michigan. He was sixty-four years old. The list of well-known men of mature age who have succumbed while playing on the links is a long one. There have been so many instances of the kind that the medical journals are beginning to pay attention to the subject and some significant warnings have appeared from leading physicians on the dangers that golf may hold for those no longer young.

The mistake made by many men who have passed the meridian of life is in assuming that golf is not a strenuous sport. It is true that it may be played leisurely, but comparatively few of its devotees "take it easy." Especially where the element of competition enters in, the elderly are apt to strain their powers beyond the normal point of endurance, thus inviting disaster. The moral from these numerous tragedies of the links is not that the game should be given up by all except the young and athletic, but that the elderly should play it with discretion. And it would not be a bad idea for old fellows to consult their doctor from time to time and find if they are in condition to walk several miles a day around a golf course and to indulge in addition to the violent exertion of driving the ball, with the excitement of competition on the side.

An Iowa city has prohibited the wearing of bathing suits on the streets. But, how are they to tell which are bathing suits and which are not?

Rulo, Neb. Crossing Up for Consideration

Meeting Is Called By St. Joseph Automobile Club for Next Thursday—Many To Attend.

The Chamber of Commerce at Falls City, Neb., and the organization formed there last fall to secure a crossing for vehicles over the railroad bridge at Rulo, Nebr., have been asked by the St. Joseph Automobile club of St. Joseph to send representatives to St. Joseph for a conference next Thursday. The meeting will be held at the Elks club beginning at 12:15 according to present plans.

Falls City and forty or fifty towns in southeast Nebraska and northwest Missouri have been trying to induce the Burlington railroad company to plank the bridge over the Missouri river at Rulo so vehicles may cross. When the matter was first taken up with the officials of the company in Omaha the fear was expressed that the structure would not bear the additional weight of the necessary planks. A Nebraska state commission sent an engineer to examine the bridge. His report was to the effect that the proposed planking would in no way impair the structure.

Still the matter hangs fire, for reasons not given. Those interested believe if St. Joseph and other interested cities could be induced to apply a little pressure to railroad officials results may be obtained.

The decision by the Automobile club to invite the Falls City men to St. Joseph was made at a meeting of the board of directors Thursday. It was also decided to donate $500 to the publicity fund of the Jefferson Highway association and to call the attention of the state highway commission to the fact that the black lines marking the center of some of the paved highways has been obliterated. The commission will be asked to have the markings renewed.

THIS WEEK IN MISSOURI HISTORY.

Compiled by the State Historical Society of Missouri, Columbia. Floyd C. Shoemaker, Secretary.

May 24-30.

One hundred and forty-five years ago (1780) on May 26th, the Revolutionary War was first brought to Missouri soil in the famous British attack on St. Louis. The attack failed and left Spain supreme west of the Mississippi. This supremacy (twenty-three years later) made possible the acquisition of Louisiana by the United States.

To strike at the French settlements under Spain from the Missouri to the Gulf was the plan of the British general on the Lakes. A thousand Indian allies were to furnish the men. British and Canadian French commanders led the war party. St. Louis, with its less than two hundred defenders, was the first to be attacked.

Tradition and rumor rival history and fact in descriptions of this farthest western battle of the period of the American Revolution. Were the inhabitants warned? It seems so, but they had not made adequate preparations. Was the Spanish commander De Leyba a coward and a traitor? Tradition accuses him, but the case is not proven.

The attack was made on May 26, 1780, and lasted one day. If it had been a day earlier, when the French colonists were observing the festival of Corpus Christi and many were roaming the fields picking strawberries, the result would have been different. The shock was severe, the loss of life serious, forty were killed and eighteen made prisoners. The British loss, Canadian French and Indian, was small. The attack failed and the foe withdrew northeastward. The bravery of the stockade defenders, possible treachery of the Canadian French to the British cause, and poor leadership of the attackers, each played a part in the defeat of the foe. The British abandoned their dream of conquest to the Gulf.

Missouri's first schoolmaster and poet, John B. Trudeau, and the schoolmistress Madame Riganche, were among the defenders of the stockade. Trudeau left a poem on the attack, "Ballad of the Year of the Surprise." It is in the form of a dialogue between a messenger from St. Louis, bearing news of the attack, and the Spanish governor in New Orleans. This was the first poem written on Missouri soil and the first on a Missouri subject.

The significance of the failure of the attack on St. Louis is at least three-fold. It saved St. Louis from the barbarities of capture, probable destruction, at the hands of Indians. It safeguarded the other Missouri settlements. It resulted in the abandonment of the British plan to capture the chain of French posts southward, erect British forts, and substitute British for Spanish rule in the Louisiana country. These results were directly and positively favorable to Missouri.

The Prince of Wales has indicated that he is very anxious to visit the United States again on his return from South America. Although Lord Astor's bill to admit peeresses to the House of Lords failed of passage, he expressed confidence of its eventual enactment. Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, author and spiritualist, declared that he looks "forward to death with serenity, even eagerness." Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover advised consumers to stock up on both hard and soft coal during the next few weeks.

WILLIAM CAVALIER, 15, Playing Jazz Record.

William Cavalier, fifteen, sentenced to die in the electric chair at Pottsville, Pa., as the result of his conviction for the murder of his grandmother, smiled when asked to comment after sentence was passed. Fifteen minutes later, in his room in the detention home, he played jazz records on his phonograph, as shown, after stating he was confident he would not be electrocuted.

OBITUARY.

John Henry Adkins, son of Randal and Kathleen Adkins, was born near Coal Creek, Anderson County, Tennessee, September 1, 1863, and died at his home southeast of Elmo, May 20, 1925, aged 61 years, 8 months and 20 days.

He came with his parents to Missouri in May, 1866, where he resided continuously on the farm where his parents settled until February 7, 1884, when he was united in marriage to Nettie E. Fairbanks. To this union was born seven children, all of whom are living and present. They are: Inez Pearl Sloan of near Elmo, Ora Dwight of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, Susan Esther of near Elmo, Anna Ruth Beavers of Hepburn, Ia., Mary Alice McCord of Braddyville, Ia., Flora Elizabeth, and Charlene Catherine at home.

He is also survived by his widow, mother, five brothers, two sisters, eight grandchildren and a host of other relatives and friends. At the age of 18 years, he was converted and united with the Bethel Church near Elmo, and ever after lived a conscientious life, being an example to relatives, neighbors and friends. He joined the I. O. O. F. and was a faithful member, later he transferred his membership to Clearmont, where he belonged at the time of his death.

A faithful and loving husband and father, and although his sufferings were intense, he bore them with the utmost patience. Toward the last, he called his children to him one by one, and although suffering intensely, his Spirit seemed to be at great peace.

The funeral services were conducted at 2 p. m. Thursday at the Methodist Episcopal Church, by its pastor, Edgar O. Wells, who was ably assisted by the Rev. E. J. Speer of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, who was a close friend of the family, having visited at the home several times during the sickness of Brother Adkins.

The church was filled to overflowing by relatives and many could not get into the house, so much so, that the I. O. O. F. who were just a little late in getting there, did not enter until toward the last of the service, and these, our comrades, conducted the last sad rites at the cemetery south of Elmo.

Washington, May 25 (United Press)—Weather outlook for the period May 25 to 30 inclusive:

Upper Mississippi and Lower Missouri Valley—Fair, except for periods of showers during the first half of the week. Cool at the beginning of the week followed by warmer the middle and latter parts.

St. Louis, May 25 (United Press)—An airplane moving van was in operation today.

A Wichita, Kan., store purchased a large shipment of goods from the Rice Stix Company here last week then were confronted with the task of moving the goods. The shipments were to be made some time this week, and there was the customary necessity of fifteen hours enroute by train.

The Kansas company leased an airplane from an airplane company in their city to make the trip.

The flight was expected to take two hours.

Columbus, O., May 25 (United Press)—"A conspiracy of rudderless intellects against God's way in the colleges of the land is responsible for such revoking crimes as the murder of Bobby Franks by Leopold and Leob" William Jennings Brayn declared.

"The greatest need of the world is a combination of spiritual and intellectual power" he said.

"We have more murders than any other civilized country because our colleges are Godless".

Brayn criticized his own brother Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska for leaving religion out of his campaign speeches when he was running for vice-president last fall.

Columbus, O., May 25 (United Press)—"God might have made a sharper thorn in the side of temperance than Detroit but he didn't" United States Prohibition Commissioner Roy C. Haines said.

The commissioner, his chief assistant E. C. Yellowley and Thomas Stone of Cleveland, with other dry agents, were here for a conference.

Haynes refused to answer any questions bearing on plans for a drive against bootleggers or grafting officials.

"I believe that will ease the situation here a little don't you" he answered in reply to a question as to the effect of Ontario's new beer law upon prohibition.

Dayton, Tenn., May 25—(United Press)—John T. Scopes, biology teacher, by noon today will probably stand indicted—and the indictment will be through evidence which Scopes has furnished mostly himself.

It is one of the few instances in the country's history where a man has worked to be indicted.

Scopes, up until a couple of weeks ago, was little heard of. He simply was a biology teacher in the high school here.

But Tennessee recently passed a law which prohibited the teaching of evolution in the schools. And the first victim of the law was Scopes, for various county and state officials charged Scopes paid no heed to the anti-evolution act.

Scopes, through his attorney John Godsey, admits he taught evolution. He wants to make this a test case of the law. He has urged all his students to go before the Grand Jury and tell of his teaching evolution.

Therefore it is quite agreed that the grand jury can do nothing but return a true bill.

With the indictment practically assured plans are underway for the trial, expected to be the latter part of June. The trial will have a display of oratory very seldom heard in one sitting.

William Jennings Brayn will aid the state in their fight on evolution.

Clarence Darrow, criminal attorney of Chicago, and Dudley Field Malone, New York lawyer, will aid the defense.

The town has had to fight to keep the trial from being switched to one of the bigger cities of the state, and now the business men are making preparations to handle the crowd which is expected to trek here for the trial.

Business men raised $5,000 to spend in dressing up the town and receiving and housing the guests expected from various parts of the country.

Kennett, Mo., May 25 (United Press)—"Counterfeiter."

That word cost the Cotton Belt railroad exactly $7,500 here recently.

LeRoy Martin was awarded that amount in his suit for $10,000 against the railroad company, and suit was based entirely around the one word counterfeiter.

Martin testified that he went into a bank at Malden and attemped to get a $100 bill changed. A detective for the Cotton Belt grabbed him and said:

"Counterfeiter."

Martin says he and a companion were placed in jail and held on the counterfeiting charge, which later was disproved.

The arrest led up to the $10,000 suit.

Edwardsville, Ill., May 25 (United Press)—A certain tall, well dressed man, is the "meanest man" according to several women living near here.

The women raise chickens in order to get "pin money" and recently the tall man came about the district offering good prices for chickens. He purchased quite a flock.

But the joke was the way he paid for the chickens.

He paid with a check, and the checks were worth just exactly what the paper cost. He never had an account in the Edwardsville bank named on the checks.

The women are seeking him.

Miss Rogers Gained 15 Pounds in Six Weeks

Skinny Men and Women Gain 5 Pounds in 30 Days or Money Back

My dear Friends:

After my attack of Flu I was thin, rundown and weak. I had a sallow complexion, my cheeks were sunk in and I was continually troubled with gas on my stomach. I felt stuffy and had lost my appetite. I had read about McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets and decided to give them a trial. At once, I began to pick up an appetite, my cheeks filled out and my complexion became healthy looking and I gained 15 pounds in six weeks and am very thankful for what McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets did for me.

Miss Alberta Rogers, 264 W. Cerro Gorda St., Decatur, Ill.

To take on weight, grow strong and vigorous, to fill out the hollows in cheeks and neck, try McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets for 30 days. 60 Tablets—60 cents at Maryville Drug Co., Gaugh & Evans—and live druggists everywhere. If they don't give you wonderful help in 30 days, get your money back—you be the judge. But be sure and ask for McCoy's, the original and genuine.

Shepherd Ill; His Case May Be Delayed

Chicago, May 25.—William D. Shepherd, on trial here for the "typhoid" murder of William Nelson McClintock his millionaire foster son, is suffering from an attack of the la grippe, which might lead to a postponement of the hearing. This became known today when Shepherd walked into the courtroom for the beginning of the second week of the monotonous efforts to select a jury. He was very obviously "under the weather" as he took his place in the courtroom and jail physicians admitted he had been confined to his bed since court adjourned Saturday.

Defective Machinery Costs Millions Yearly

Amazing Lack Of System, Imposing Double Cost On People, Is Bared By Hoover After Intensive Study

Washington, May 25.—Defective and inefficient organization of the federal machinery of government, with a scattering of services and overlapping of functions, is costing the American people millions of dollars, not only directly in unnecessary appropriations, but indirectly in unnecessary costs imposed upon citizens.

The executive branch of the federal government now embraces more than two hundred bureaus, boards and commissions, employing several hundred thousand people, grouped in a hodgepodge way in the ten different executive departments under cabinet officers.

Forty Spend 500 Million.

In addition, there are more than forty independent establishments under the President or Congress. Of these the ones charged alone with straight administrative functions spend nearly 500 million a year, as much as five of the departments under cabinet officers, and yet this system of independent organizations is based on the theory that the President, even with his huge burden of other tasks, can give adequate supervision to their far-flung activities.

Every instance of friction or overlapping costs somebody money. Also, the multiplication and confusion of functions impose a staggering sum indirectly on citizens who have to do business with the government.

This entire situation has been made the subject of a comprehensive study by the secretary of commerce, Herbert Hoover, one of the world's greatest experts on [illegible] organization, with [illegible] recommendations for improvement.

Two Steps In Right Direction.

Mr. Hoover points out that in many years of striving to improve the federal administration, success has attended two major steps, first, the establishment of the last merit system in governmental employment and secondly, in the establishment of adequate control of appropriations through the budget system. Two great avenues of waste thus were blocked.

But there remains to be checked and overcome a third, which Mr. Hoover says is an even greater, although more obscure waste, that of faulty organization of administrative function.

The governmental machinery, Mr. Hoover emphasizes, has "just grown," and whenever a new activity has been authorized or a new bureau created "it has been thrown wherever it happened to be most convenient at the moment."

Broadening the Base of Industry

"We are living in a world too small to be compartmented," says Willis H. Booth, President of the International Chamber of Commerce.

Long ago the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) foresaw the change in business which is now taking place. Several years ago this Company took a long step in advance by widening the ownership of its capital stock, and by bringing into complete harmony the interests of customers, stockholders, employes and the public.

So far as the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is concerned, the interests of capital, labor and the consumer are no longer divided into separate "compartments." These interests are one.

Only by the profitable employment of the stockholders' capital can the consumer be served and labor employed. The stockholder wants dividends. Dividends are paid out of profits. Profits follow service to the consumer. Efficient service to the consumer can only be achieved through a wise labor policy.

By the careful, thorough-going administration of its affairs, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has interlocked these interests in such a manner as to promote complete harmony in its own organization and to develop and encourage the spirit of "I Will" and "I Can"—resulting in an enthusiastic service to the thirty million people of ten Middle Western states.

Every purchaser of a gallon of gasoline manufactured by this Company gets the benefit of a myriad of activities, the enthusiastic labor of innumerable men, and the use of an immense amount of capital.

The ideal which inspired the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to work for a practical fusion of the formerly divergent interests was an ideal of service: an earnest desire to further progress by the creation of new wealth in the form of an abundant supply of petroleum products: a determination to sell these products at prices low enough to bring them within the reach of all; making the comfort and luxury of motoring as available to the day laborer as to the multi-millionaire.

MARYVILLE GOLFERS SUPREME AT HAMBURG YESTERDAY.

ED DALE IS MEDALIST

Local Team Continues to Lead Percentage Column of the I.-M. Golf Association Tourney.

Maryville swept the score board at Hamburg, Ia., yesterday when the golf team of the local Country Club turned in scores that were better than could be totaled by the teams from Hamburg, Red Oak and Clarinda, and the Maryville team continues to lead the percentage column of the Iowa-Missouri Golf Association.

Maryville won all three points at Hamburg yesterday, even outplaying the Hamburg team on its own course. Besides making scores that put their team in a position to win, Dr. H. S. Dowell and Ed Dale were first in number of bogies and pars among the twenty-four golfers of the six teams that competed yesterday. Also Dowell, Dale and Vogt of the Maryville team were medalists of the day's play.

Dale shot an 88, Dowell a 90 and Vogt an 89 on the two rounds of the nine-hole course, lower than any other scores turned in. Dale was medalist with his score of 88. Dr. Dowell captained the team that played at Hamburg yesterday.

The Maryville golf team will be idle until June 14 when teams from Red Oak, Shenandoah and Corning come here to compete in a four-cornered match.

The team results at Hamburg:

Team	Pars	Bogies	Medal Score
Maryville	23	56	549
Hamburg	4	25	628
Red Oak	12	30	550
Clarinda	8	31	602

The individual scores of the Maryville players:

Player	Pars	Bogies	Medal Score

MARYVILLE BEATS CLARINDA YESTERDAY 19 TO 6.

WEATHER IS TOO COLD

Locals Pound Visiting Pitcher for 19 Hits And Two Home Runs During the Game.

Cold weather and baseball does not go together, and cold weather is not inducive for getting good crowds, which was all evidenced yesterday when the M. M. B. C. played the Clarinda All-Nations. Between shivers the Maryville boys got in nineteen runs while Buhler and Brennan sort a let the visitors feel good by permitting six runs.

Errors were frequent and so were hits. It was a poor day for pitchers to work up a sweat. Maryville found Kendall, Clarinda hurler for the same number of hits as they got scores. Kendall struck out seven, while Buhler struck out six and Brennan, for Maryville, four.

In the first inning Maryville went to bat first. The boys batted around and then Tobin and Mayes got their second chances at bat. In this frame they hit the pill seven runs. Clarinda got in a hurry in the seventh inning and came in for their bats after retiring only two Maryville men—but what was the difference.

The Clarinda All-Nations had four negroes on their team who blustered around considerably, did less playing and chalked up a few errors in their favor. English, the Clarinda catcher, knocked out a homer, but that was to make up for the one Phil Tobin got.

Phil led off for Maryville and on the first ball pitched smacked a four bagger. Meyers made a home run out of a hot grounder to left field in the seventh inning.

Every Maryville man got a run yesterday, and in this manner: Tobin, 1; Mayes, 1; Liley, 1; Meyers, 2; Jameson, 1; Brennan, 3; T. Tobin, 3; Buhler, 1. In the seventh inning Brennan talked Buhler into letting him pitch the last two innings and Connely went out to right field to replace Mayes, who was petting a swollen hand, sustained when hit by a pitched ball.

The Clarinda lineup:

Updike, cf; Hall, 3b; Long, rf; English, c; Able, 2b; Kendall, p; Nash, 1b; Gray ss; McNeal, lf.

The score by innings:

Maryville	702	404	20x	19
Clarinda	010	012	020	6

Barmann Auto Co. baseball team, bolstered up by Conception players, yesterday defeated the St. Mary's Church team on the diamond five miles east of Skidmore yesterday 9 to 7.

A home run was clouted by each team. F. Bueuel, pitching for nearly six innings struck out two and E. Yehle, who pitched the remainder of the game for the Church team, was credited with seven strikeouts. Wiederholt, pitching for Barmanns retired six by the strike-out route.

The score by innings:

St. Marys	211	100	011—7
Barmann Auto	200	303	01x—9

The line-ups:

St. Marys—P. Buhler, ss Busby, rf; Joe Thompson, 2b; J. Wagner, cf; Auer, c; M. Wagner, 3b; John Thompson, 1b; H. Limeman, lf; F. Bleuel, p; Yehle for Bleuel; Busby for Auer in sixth inning. Barmann Auto Co.—O. Sheber, c; Wiederholt, p; Booth, 1b; Leonard, 2b; L. Sheber, ss; Bagby, 3b; Yeary, cf; Newton, lf; Brownfield and McDonald, rf. Barmanns got nine hits and St. Marys ten. P. C. Purchases Fine Bull at Meredith's Sale

Floyd Evans of the Harmony neighborhood purchased a fine young registered Jersey bull at the Meredith sale at Des Moines last Thursday. The bull was sired by Fashionable Fern Lad, a bull bred at Long View farms, Lee Summit, Mo., and has been twice grand champion at the national dairy show. The dam of Mr. Evans' new bull is the fine young daughter of Flora's Queens Raleigh, who is sire of seven in register of merit, and was also first in the national dairy show in 1916. This purchase means much to the Jersey interests in Nodaway County. For several years, Mr. Evans has been developing a herd of registered Jersey cattle and has a very creditable herd now.

Sheep Demonstrations to Be Held This Week

Under Auspices of Farm Bureau in Co-Operation With Extension Service of Agricultural College.

Two sheep demonstrations will be held this week under auspices of the Farm Bureaus in co-operation with the Extension Service. At 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon a meeting will be held on the farm of Karl Zimmerman of near Maryville, to make a study of the results obtained by him feeding grain to early lambs.

A representative of the Extension Service of the College of Agriculture, Columbia, who is a sheep specialist, will be present at the meeting and he will discuss sheep questions.

A similar meeting will be conducted by the Farm Bureau at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon on the farm of W. B. Porter of near Pickering.

At the Porter farm Mr. Russell will discuss the results obtained by Mr. Porter and Mr. Zimmerman and will be glad to take up any of the problems which sheep men may have to ask at this time.

Feed records have been kept on these lambs at the two farms and the cost of raising the lambs can be easily determined.

J. Ross Fleetwood, county agent, is desirous of having a large attendance at these meetings and said this morning that these demonstrations will prove of much value to all who are in the sheep raising business.

Story of South Seas in Picture at Empire

Milton Sills and Viola Dana are together again!

The two picture stars, who have played together on many occasions in the past, are the top-notchers in "As Man Desires," a highly romantic, colorful story of the Orient and the South Seas, which plays tonight and Tuesday at the Empire Theater.

The two are billed as the co-featuring players in this First National picture and are to be supported by an unusually strong cast including Ruth Clifford, Rosemary Theby, Tom Kennedy, Paul Nicholson, Lou Payne, Hector Sarno, Anna May Walthall, Edneh Altemus and Frank Leigh.

In "As Man Desires," Sills, famed as "The Sea Hawk," enacts the part of a British army officer who, accused of murder, flees to Tahiti and becomes the notorious captain of a pearl fishing vessel.

Calls Attention to Attack on St. Louis

City Is Unsuccessfully Raided By British 145 Years Ago Tomorrow, Floyd Shoemaker Points Out.

Columbia, Mo., May 25—An event of importance in Missouri and national history is the outstanding feature of Missouri history week, said Floyd C. Shoemaker, secretary of the State Historical Society of Missouri.

One hundred and forty-five years ago, May 26, 1780, the first blood of the Revolutionary war to be shed in Missouri came in the unsuccessful attack by the British on St. Louis.

The British planned to strike at the French settlements under Spain, from the Missouri to the Gulf of Mexico. Indian allies were to furnish the men for the campaign. British and French-Canadian officers were the leaders. St. Louis, with less than 2000 defenders, was the first point of attack.

The French colonists offered stubborn resistance to the British allies. Their bravery and the alleged treachery of the French-Canadian commanders, said Mr. Shoemaker, were the cause of the British failure. Following the defeat, with heavy losses to the British, England abandoned her dream of gulf conquest.

The results of the failure, which left Spain still supreme, were directly beneficial to Missouri. It saved St. Louis from possible pillage by the Indians, safeguarded other Missouri settlements and paved the way for the Louisiana purchase by the United States.

Missouri's first schoolmaster, John B. Trudeau and the schoolmistress, Madame Riguacho, were among the defenders of St. Louis. Trudeau is credited with writing the first poem ever penned on Missouri soil. After the battle the schoolmaster wrote the news of the attack, in the form of a dialogue, to the Spanish governor at New Orleans.

Answer: Buick's precision methods are possible because of Buick's great volume. It would be impossible to put such fine workmanship into Buick cars for their price if Buick built but a few thousand cars a year.

Small Attendance at Elmo Memorial Service

(By Edgar O. Wells, Minister.)

"Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy," was no doubt considered a 'Blue Law' by the Hittites, Jebusites, and Amarites, as well as in this our Twentieth Century. However, it would be a very fine example for Christianity in this country, to set before the world, of not making it a day of desecration by pleasure seeking to say nothing about common labor. What say you, Christians of Elmo and vicinity?

Our memorial services were largely a failure Sunday last, because of the cold, but the motor car, run by gasoline, was in evidence as ever.

The services for next Sunday, May 31, will be at the usual hours, and we hope to make very interesting and helpful. Will not you help to make them so, by your attendance and prayers?

The morning theme will be: "The Multiplication of Life by Death." Song service at 8 p. m. and a sermon to young people, on "The Revelation of Life's Mainspring."

Nodaway County Sunday School workers, speak out about that contest, for attendance. Old Andrew County can give us pointers on how to do it. Let's have a goal and work for it.

CLOSING GRAIN REVIEW.

Chicago, May 25.—Grain futures advanced to a sharply higher level in a sensational trading session on the Chicago Board of Trade today. Freezing temperatures were the salient features in the greatly excited session.

General apprehension over crop conditions was the backbone of brisk buying in wheat. Continued influx of complaints from every direction over the growing belt suggested an extreme serious condition. Frost visitation at this time borders on a calamity in the opinion of experts. Ice formed in parts of Iowa and Nebraska last night.

Commission houses were principal buyers.

Heavy buying in corn came despite the heaviest receipts for some time.

Oats were higher with other grains. It is not known whether the crop suffered.

Provisions rallied late with grains and finished higher.

"It used to be the custom to get diplomas framed. They don't do that any more. A diploma has its value but nobody will judge you by how many diplomas you have in your room. If your diploma does not stand for service it doesn't amount to anything."

Bishop Waldorff placed special emphasis on first values. He deplored the fact that some people seek position, power, pleasure, and popularity, and that in their place should be things of first value. The soul redemption, freedom, truth, faith, love and Christ, are the qualities that will stand the test of time.

The processional march was sung by the chorus and audience. The processional song was "O God, Beneath Thy Guiding Hand," by Hatton.

The invocation was given by the Rev. R. A. Mitchell, pastor of the Methodist Church, south.

The chorus that sang at the services last night was composed of students that are in the College chorus. They were directed by Charles R. Gardner, dean of the conservatory of music. The following students were in the chorus:

Bass: Russel Allan, Russel Hamilton, Vorn Moore, Floyd Moore, Arthur Elmore, and Luther Richman.

Tenors: Irvin Gulser, Earl Peoples, Vernon Barrett, R. O. McClain, Marvin Westfall, and G. B. Andrews.

Altos: Thelma Reece, Mary Pollard, Vada Cliser, Ruth Houchens, Gertrude Belt, Mabel Raines, Martha Haas, Margaret Mills, Zelma Neal, and Hazel Cox.

Sopranos: Florine Pollard, Grace Graves, Esther McQueen, Dorthea Snodderly, Lota Clair Landfather, Ruth Wolfert, Lorraine Maxey, Katherine Kibbe, Elizabeth Mills, Vira Fitz, Alyee Allen, Leta Babb, Mayme Greene, Audrey Stiwalt, Oma Ross, and Wilma Cook.

The first song, "Send Out Thy Light," was by Gounod. This was written by a French musician who spent a great deal of his life in a monastery and is conceded as one of the best of religious hymns.

"Integer Vitae" by Flemming, was sung at the conclusion of the services. This is a 'humming song' and represents the entire life of an individual. It was rendered in eight parts.

Oslo, Norway, Seeks News of Pole Flyers

Newspaper Officials Besieged By Anxious Crowds—Tense Excitement In Capital City.

London, May 25.—Hope for the safety of Capt. Roald Amundsen and his companions on the polar flight gave way to apprehension today when the steamer Hobby, one of the two patrol ships which preceded the airplanes to the rim of the polar ice, returned to Wellman Bay without word, according to news agency dispatches.

No word had been received from Captain Amundsen at Spitzbergen up to noon today.

Oslo, Norway, May 25.—The almost 300,000 people of this capital city were in a state of tense excitement today in the absence of news from the Amundsen-Ellsworth North Pole flight.

Newspaper offices were besieged by anxious crowds and the government put on extra workers to keep open the telegraph, telephone and other means of communication for the receipt and distribution of news.

Oil Lease Cases Up Before Jury Again

Government To Seek Indictments of Albert B. Fall, Harry F. Sinclair and Edward L. Doheny.

Washington, May 25.—The federal grand jury today resumed consideration of the government's cases against former Secretary Fall, Harry F. Sinclair and Edward L. Doheny, accused of conspiracy to defraud the United States in the leasing of oil lands in California and Wyoming.

Atlee Pomerene and Owen J. Roberts, the government's special oil counsel, said that they expected to obtain indictments before the end of the week. The first indictments were dismissed by the Supreme Court on technical grounds.

A CHANGE OF HEART NEEDED

REV. MITCHELL SAYS WE SHOULD NOT BE CONTENT WITH RECORDS

TELLS NATION'S NEEDS

Memorial Day Exercises Held At M. E. Church, South, Yesterday—Delegations at Services.

"With all just honor to you ex-service men, who have so nobly stood by our country in the time of need, I say that we should not be content with your records of the past but should rather consecrate your lives as a living sacrifice to your home, your country, and your God," said the Rev. R. A. Mitchell, in addressing the combined delegation of ex-service men that attended the Methodist Church, South, yesterday morning at the Memorial Day exercises.

Delegations from all of the war organizations and auxiliaries were present at the memorial services yesterday morning.

"This morning I shall present the needs of our country, instead of the eulogizing of our war heroes. All that can be done has been done for you.

"We in America pride ourselves on what we have done as a nation, yet we fail to consider with all of our natural resources, and education, what we can do as a nation. We should be optomistic. We should not continue to underrate our possibilities and over rate our accomplishments.

"The greatest thing that this world needs today is a change of heart. This can be brought about by each succession of choices, if we always chose the better course. Today the world is right where it was before the war. There is hatred, fear, the spirit of militarism, and the spirit of revenge abounding in Europe. The morals of the countries across the sea are just as low as they were in the days of 1914.

"If we continue to shut our minds to this condition and content ourselves by resting on the honors won in the last world war we will not only fail to best help the other countries but we will harm ourselves.

"We need first the spirit of Christian love. We are all children of God and we should so closely knit ourselves that when one suffers we all suffer.

"We should not attempt any reform unless we attempt this in the spirit of righteousness. We need the aggressive type of man. The man that will stand out for peace, and against war. We do not wish him to sacrifice his honor for peace but we do want him to devote his whole life in this service.

"If we are true followers of the Prince of Peace we will stand for a clean, just, peace. Pleading and reason will win out and the difficulties may be adjusted."

Supreme Court Upholds Income Tax Publication

Washington, May 25—The United States Supreme Court today upheld as legal the publication of income tax returns in American newspapers.

This opinion was rendered by the court in a decision upholding the publication of income tax payments in the Kansas City Journal-Post, and reaffirmed a moment later the publication of the payments in the Baltimore Post.

The court held that newspapers may publish legally any income tax returns made public by commissioners of internal revenue by order of the 1924 revenue law.

Lower courts sustained the rights of newspapers to treat as news the public report of the internal revenue commission, but the government held that there was a distinction between making the returns open to public inspection by taxpayers and printing and publishing them in newspapers, and brought the suit to the highest court.

The opinion was read by Judge Sutherland. He declared that Congress, in making the income tax returns public, had intended that they should be open to all forms of publicity.

Washington, May 25.—President Coolidge today gave his approval to a "voluntary" national defense test similar to the one held last September, and suggested July 4 as the day for the test.

Belgium Must Pay Its Debt Direct to U. S.

America Will Not Accept Reparation Payments From Germany In Lieu of Obligations of Brussels.

Washington, May 25.—The position of the United States with respect to funding of the 470 million dollar Belgian debt has been fully explained to the Brussels government in a note transmitted to Ambassador Phillips, it was announced officially at the state department today.

In this note, the contents of which were dictated by Secretary of State Kellogg, Belgium was told that this government would not consent under any circumstances to receive German reparations payments direct to liquidate the Belgian debt, but that payments would have to be made by Belgium without any regards where the money was obtained.

Full-Size Gum-Dipped Balloons

You don't get much of a vacation if you only read about the summer resorts. Neither do you get a true idea of the delightful motoring comfort of Balloons unless you drive a Balloon equipped car. Call us up for an appointment or come in any time and take our car out for a run around the town. Hunt the roughest street—the street you dread on High Pressure tires. Notice the absence of shocks, vibrations and rattles even at high speed. See how the car holds to the road on sharp turns. Bring it to a stop, the brakes take hold twice as fast. A ride will convince you—you'll want Balloons and now is the time to get them!
